Building Oregon's Best Businesses

Small business is a key driver of local, regional and state economies.

Small businesses serve the needs and interests of the community, providing jobs and opportunity.

SBDCs support small businesses by offering training, mentorship, market research, and help accessing capital. All of these services are provided to small businesses for free or at low cost, empowering small business owners to focus on achieving their goals.

Business is local, and so are OSBDCN's 19 centers. Our Centers support small business by matching the resources of a statewide network with support in local communities. Each Center offers classes, mentorship, and a network of connections to help business leaders succeed.

Oregon SBDCs provide assistance for minority, women, and veteran business leaders.

These efforts help create greater diversity by bringing people with different backgrounds, understandings, and perspectives into the business community, helping to enhance all of our communities.

Investing in SBDCs brings additional revenue and creates jobs.

Every state dollar invested in Oregon's SBDCs generates an additional $2.27 in local, federal, and program income funds, leading to $2.08 in additional state revenue from the jobs and capital our Centers help small businesses create each year. In 2019, this meant the creation of 1,187 new jobs and the retention of 618 existing jobs statewide.
